

Balboa Capital Boosts Its Small Business Loan Division With New Staff Members and Increased Lending Capacity

Top Independent Financing Company Supports Small Business Growth By Providing Fast, Flexible Loan Products To Companies In All Industries Nationwide

IRVINE, CALIFORNIA, May 13, 2014 - Balboa Capital, a leading independent financing company that specializes in small business loan products, announced today the expansion of its small business loan division with new financing specialists, business loan coordinators and customer service representatives. Additionally, the company recently increased its lending capacity by securing a $152 million securitization. Balboa Capital boosted its small business loan division, which provides working capital loans, flexible business loans and merchant cash advances, to support the financing needs of companies in all industries throughout the United States.

“We are all about small business growth, and once again we have taken the steps necessary to help business owners secure funding for their immediate and short-term needs,” said David Van Patten, Business Funding Director at Balboa Capital. He adds, “Small businesses are the engine that drives our nation’s economy, and we’ve helped thousands of them move forward with our simple, hassle-free business loan products.” Balboa Capital’s aggressive growth initiatives are the result of an increased demand for small business financing and greater optimism about the economy, the latter of which was highlighted in a nationwide survey the company conducted. 75% of business owners surveyed by Balboa Capital feel the US economy is improving, and 84% expect unchanged or higher revenues this year.

Balboa Capital’s announcement comes during the 51st annual National Small Business Week, which recognizes the many contributions that small businesses in America make. To celebrate National Small Business Week, Balboa Capital is offering business owners a complimentary business loan whitepaper that has a wealth of information pertaining to the various loan products that are available. Balboa Capital also created an informative small business loan infographic that is free to download and share.
